The marriage of Miss Florence Scofield, daughter of Mr. John H. Scofield, and Mr. Charles J. Catanach of Philadelphia, took place today at noon. The ceremony was performed at the Washington Methodist Episcopal Church by the Rev. U. G. B. Pierce of All Souls' Unitarian church, and was followed by a wedding breakfast and reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Arthur Holton, at 2322 H street. The decorations in the church were of Australian ferns, palms and gladioli, and in the home pink gladioli, ranunculus and autumn leaves.

The bride wore a traveling gown of dark blue crepe made on the new draped lines, the only trimming being a tassel of jets, where the drapery was caught. Her hat was of dark blue trimmed with sand color and she wore a corsage bouquet of sweethearts. Her sister, Miss Margaret Evans, was maid of honor and wore jade green georgette crepe, with a maline hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Elsie Catanach of Philadelphia, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margaret Evans, who wore, respectively, beige crepe and dark brown lace over satin and they both wore dark brown maline hats and carried ophelia roses, delphinium and larkspur.

Mr. Frank B. Stackhouse of Philadelphia was best man and the ushers were Capt. Frank C. Scofield, brother of the bride; Mr. Charles E. Phelps, Mr. Edward A. McNulty and Mr. Raymond Morris of Philadelphia. Mrs. Victor I. Zelov sang and Mrs. Edward Berry played the wedding music.

At the reception following, Mrs. Holton received with Mr. and Mrs. Catanach, as did Mrs. George Catanach of Philadelphia, mother of the bridegroom, the former wearing a gown of white lace with a black hat and the latter in black crepe with a small black hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Catanach will leave later in the afternoon for a wedding trip and after October 1 will be at home at 1844 Columbia road.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Scofield, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Corcoran of Summit, N. J.

Miss Margaret Miller Scudder, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Seymour Scudder of Honolulu, Hawaii, has selected Saturday evening, September 9, for her marriage to Mr. Cuthbert Charles Gabel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gabel of Belvidere, Ill. The ceremony will be performed at 8:30 o'clock in All Saints' Church, Chevy Chase, by the Rev. J. W. Austin, and will be followed by a reception in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Frederic Ernest Farrington, at 6412 Connecticut avenue.

Miss Scudder will be attended by Miss Elizabeth Hemingway of Norfolk, Va., as maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be her cousins, Miss Dorothy Scudder and Miss Ruth Keator of New York.

Mr. August C. Fenger of Chattanooga, Tenn., will act as best man for Mr. Gabel, and the ushers will be Mr. Raymond D. Scudder of Honolulu, brother of the bride, and Mr. Spencer H. Miller of Honolulu, Conn.

The Rev. Dr. Scudder, father of the bride, and Mrs. Gabel, mother of the bridegroom, will come for the wedding.

Capt. Harvey M. Snyder, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Snyder will leave Washington September 10 for San Antonio, Tex., where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Robert Hinckley and Miss Clara Hinckley, who are expected to leave the summer abroad, will return to Washington next month. The recently left London and went to Paris, making the trip by airplane.

The Rev. Dr. Siler and his daughter, Miss Ruth Prince Siler, of Moxton, N. C., who were guests in the home of Representative and Mrs. William Francis Stevenson of South Carolina, have returned to their home.

Capt. John G. White, U. S. A., and family are at the Burlington Hotel during their stay in Washington.

Mrs. W. S. Culbertson and daughters, Julia and Jane, are the guests of Representative and Mrs. Kendall High School, Alexandria, and Mr. Lee Trenholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Trenholm of New York.

The ceremony was performed at the Meadows, the home of the bride's grandfather, Capt. Frank S. Robertson, and one of the most historic places in the state, having been the residence of the late Gov. Wyndham Robertson of Virginia. The drawing room of the beautiful old mansion was the scene of the wedding, and the marriage service took place between two large white columns in the center of the room. The Rev. Luther Williams, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Abingdon, officiated.

The Meadows never looked lovelier than on this occasion. Myriads of white candles, mingling with the gold and green floral decorations, composed an entrancing setting. The table was set in Crown Derby, marked Mary's Meadows, a gift to the bride's great-grandmother from her parents nearly a hundred years ago when she married the late Gov. Robertson. The drawing room was where the young couple were united yesterday evening.

The wedding music was rendered by Miss Nannie E. Griffin of Bedford City, Va., while little Miss Katie Robertson Motley, the bride's cousin, served as flower girl. Miss Mary Reade, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor, and Misses Mary and Elizabeth Reade, another sister, and Miss Jean Cunningham of Savannah, were bridesmaids. Mrs. Robert Pollock of Charlotte, N. C., formerly gown trimmer in old lace and velvet, was matron of honor.

The bride entered the room with her father. She wore an exquisite gown of heavy white satin with a court train. The bridesmaids' dresses of orchid, green and sapphire blue, harmonized with the rainbow effect of the gown worn by the matron of honor. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Smith Robertson, wore a black velvet gown trimmed in old lace and jet, while Mrs. Trenholm, the bridegroom's mother, wore black satin with iridescent spangles of black and blue.

Mr. Tazewell Taylor, Jr. of Norfolk, was Mr. Trenholm's best man.

The ceremony, which by reason of a recent death in the bride's family was a quiet one, was attended by Mrs. Conally F. Trigg of Abingdon; Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Robertson of Plasterock, Va.; Miss Gay Blackford, Mrs. Philip H. Minis of New York; Miss Kathleen Hite of Abingdon; Miss Kathleen Penn of Los Angeles; Mrs. W. de S. Trenholm, Mr. Willoughby Reade, Mr. Frank Reade, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bell entertained at dinner last evening in their home, in Lexington, Md., in honor of their son, Mr. Gordon Bell, and Miss Lillian Bohrer, whose marriage will take place this evening. The dinner preceded the rehearsal, and the guests were only members of the wedding party.

The marriage of Miss Bohrer to Mr. Bell will take place at 8 o'clock in Grace M. E. Church South by the Rev. D. M. Brown and will be followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Bohrer, at Gaithersburg, Md.

Miss Florence L. Brown has returned now in Denver, Col., will return at the end of the week.

Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte was hostess at luncheon yesterday in her villa at Newport.

Miss Mabel Gerry, sister of Senator Peter Gerry, was hostess at dinner last evening on the roof of Delmonico's, New York.

Mrs. and Mrs. Algonon T. Burnaby sailed from New York aboard the Mauretania for Europe.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ten Eyck Wendell, formerly of Washington, have as their guest in their summer home, Lakeland, at Casenovia, N. Y., Mr. Norvin Hewitt Green of Tuxedo Park.

Washington Women
Appreciate Our September Sale of Winter Coats

$58 $75
$95 $115

Their appreciation was shown yesterday, not only by the numbers who crowded our second and third floors, but by the large quantity of coats sold. This does not mean, however, that they have been "picked over," for we have made arrangements with the manufacturers to have a constantly fresh supply of coats for this, our Big Coat Event of the Year.

There are a number of reasons why you will want to get your winter coat during our September sale. For instance, prices are 20% lower than they will be next month; you need only make a small deposit now and can have free storage until November, when the balance of the purchase price becomes due; the furs used in the garments made up early are the choicest of the season's catch—all these reasons—but when you see the luxurious beauty of the coats themselves you'll think they

Chic Tailored Models

Nothing is quite so desirable for early fall as a tailored suit in tweed or corduroy. The lines of the new fall tailors are long and slim—long jackets without belts or with belts to be worn low over the hips and longer skirts. Sleeves of these tailored models are snug at the wrist—sometimes—sometimes flared—but in either case they are closely fitted into a narrow shoulder. Self folds—or groups of the such—are used to give individuality and to accentuate the slenderness of the silhouette.

Suits, $29.50

A Smart Wooltex Knockabout

—in a mannish check or a good-looking homespun weave. The jackets are long, with the box effect, and have huge patch pockets. These sport suits for fall come in soft fall colorings—marten, brown, oxford and navy.

Suits, $79.50

New Fur-Trimmed Creations

—in soft marleen or the heavier velveteen. Smart box styles, with long back panels and pockets formed by interlacing strips of the material in lattice work effect. Luxurious collars and cuffs of beaver, squirrel, or platinum wolf. In rich suchard or Malay browns, navy and black.
